From Tuesday May 18. to Saturday May 22. 1736.

Westminster, May 20.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes, seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Charles Dalton, Gentleman-Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers; the Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to give the Royal Assent to,

An Act for enabling his Majesty to borrow any Sum or Sums of Money, not exceeding Six Hundred Thousand Pounds, to be charged upon the Surplusses, Excesses or Overplus Monies, commonly called the Sinking Fund, redeemable by Parliament; and for the further Disposition of the said Fund, by paying off one Million of South-Sea Annuities; and for appropriating the Supplies granted in this Session of Parliament.

An Act for continuing, for the Purposes therein mentioned, the additional Duties upon stamped Vellum, Parchment and Paper, laid by an Act passed in the Twelfth Year of the Reign of his late Majesty King George the First.

An Act for naturalizing her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales.

An Act for indemnifying Persons, who have been guilty of Offences against the Laws made for securing the Revenues of Customs and Excise; and for enforcing those Laws for the Future.

(Price Six Pence.)

An Act to prevent the Listing his Majesty's Subjects to serve as Soldiers, without his Majesty's Licence.

An Act to restrain the Dispositions of Lands, whereby the same become unalienable.

An Act to explain and amend so much of an Act made in the second Year of his present Majesty's Reign, Intituled, An Act for the more effectual preventing Bribery and Corruption in the Elections of Members to serve in Parliament, as relates to the commencing and carrying on of Prosecutions grounded upon the said Act.

An Act for further encouraging and regulating the Manufacture of British Sail Cloth; and for the more effectual securing the Duties now payable on foreign Sail Cloth imported into this Kingdom.

An Act for rendring the Law more effectual for preventing the Importation of fresh Fish, taken by Foreigners; and to explain so much of an Act made in the Thirteenth and Fourteeth Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second, as relates to Ships exporting Fish to the Ports of the Mediterranean Sea; and for the better Preservation of the Fry of Lobsters on the Coasts of Scotland.

An Act for building a Bridge cross the River Thames, from the New-Palace-Yard in the City of Westminster, to the opposite Shore in the County of Surrey.

An Act for continuing the Duty of two Pennies Scots, or one sixth of a Penny Sterling, on every Pint of Ale and Beer, that shall be vended or sold within the City of Glasgow; and for extending the same over the Villages of Gorbells and Port Glasgow, and Privileges thereof, for the Benefit of the said City and Villages.

And to nine private Bills.

After

After which his Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following moſt gracious Speech.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE Diſpatch you have given to the publick Buſineſs, and the advanced Seaſon of the Year, make it proper to put an End to this Seſſion of Parliament.

I acquainted you, at your firſt Meeting, that Preliminary Articles had been concluded between the Emperour, and the moſt Chriſtian King; ſince which Time, a further Convention, concerning the Execution of them, hath been made, and communicated to me, by both thoſe Courts, and Negociations are carrying on, by the ſeveral Powers engaged in the late War, in order to ſettle the general Pacification.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I return you my Thanks for the Proviſions you have made for the Service of the current Year; you can never better recommend yourſelves to my Eſteem, and to the good Opinion of thoſe you repreſent, than by raiſing the Supplies neceſſary for the Support of my Government, and for the Service of the Publick, in a Manner the moſt effectual, and the leaſt burthenſome to my People.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is a great Concern to me, to ſee ſuch Seeds of Diſſenſion ſown among my good People, as, if not timely prevented, may prove very prejudicial to the Peace and Quiet of my Kingdoms; it is my Deſire, and ſhall be my Care, to preſerve the preſent Conſtitution in Church and State, as by Law eſtabliſhed, perfect and entire, and not to countenance any Attempts to the Prejudice of either. Good Harmony, and mutual Affection, among all the Proteſtants of this Nation, have been the great Security of the preſent happy Eſtabliſhment, from the Revolution to this Time; by this united Strength they will be able to reſiſt the ſecret and open Attempts of our common Enemies, but divided, they may become a Prey to them. My Protection ſhall be impartially diſpenſed to all my Subjects, in the full Enjoyment of their religious and civil Rights; let it be your Care, by your Conduct in your ſeveral Stations, to make my Endeavours for your common Happineſs effectual.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It being neceſſary for me to viſit my Dominions in Germany again this Year, I have reſolved to appoint the Queen Regent here, during my Abſence. The Experience you have already had of her juſt and prudent Adminiſtration, will, I doubt not, engage you all to make the Weight of the publick Affairs as eaſy to her, as her wiſe Conduct will render the Government agreeable to you; and this I recommend to you in a particular Manner.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majeſty's Command, ſaid,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majeſty's Royal Will and Pleaſure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Thurſday the Twenty ninth Day of July next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thurſday the Twenty ninth Day of July next.

Whitehall, May 18.

This Day Dr. Adams, Vice-Chancellor of the Univerſity of Cambridge, attended by a great Number of Biſhops, Noblemen, Heads of Colleges, Doctors in the ſeveral Faculties, Maſters of Arts, and other Members of that learned Body, were at St. James's in their Formalities, to congratulate his Majeſty upon the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha; and the Vice-Chancellor preſented to his Majeſty an Addreſs and a Book of Verſes from the Univerſity upon that Occaſion.

To the King's moſt excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of your Univerſity of Cambridge, always ambitious to pay our Duty to your Majeſty, and gratefully Acknowledge your Goodneſs to your People, do with the greateſt Pleaſure appear before your Majeſty upon this happy Occaſion.

The Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with a Princeſs of that illuſtrious Family which protected and ſupported thoſe who ſo eminently and ſucceſsfully oppoſed the Corruptions and Tyranny of the Church of Rome, evidently ſhews to the World the great Regard which your Majeſty entertains for the Proteſtant Religion, and your Care to tranſmit the Bleſſings of your Reign to future Ages.

As the Memory of that noble Prince John Frederick, Elector of Saxony, whoſe Virtue and heroick Conſtancy were admired even by his Enemies, muſt be highly honoured by all Proteſtants, tants, ſo we cannot but with the greateſt Satisfaction look upon the Marriage of a Lady deſcended from him with the Heir Apparent of the Crown of Great Britain, as an Earneſt of Divine Providence to reward his worthy Family for what they have ſuffered by the glorious Adherence of their Anceſtor to the Cauſe of Religion and Liberty.

From this Union of the Saxon with your Majeſty's Auguſt Houſe, we moſt juſtly Hope for a Succeſſion of Princes, who, following the Examples of their Royal Progenitors, will defend and maintain the religious and civil Rights of their People, and cheriſh and encourage your Univerſity, which has had the Honour to receive from your Majeſty, and your Royal Father, diſtinguiſhing Marks of Favour and Bounty.

May your Majeſty, the beſt of Fathers, for many Years ſee the Happineſs of the Royal Pair, and thereby receive Addition to your own: May you, through the whole Courſe of a long Reign, Enjoy the greateſt Felicity which the moſt dutiful Subjects ever pray'd and wiſhed might attend the moſt eſteemed and beloved Princes. May 10, 1736.

To which His Majeſty was pleaſed to return this moſt gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for your affectionate Congratulations on the Marriage of my Son. The Expreſſions of your Zeal, and Regard for me, and my Family, and your Concern for the Proteſtant Religion are very agreeable to me. The repeated Marks of your Duty and Loyalty, cannot fail of ſecuring to you the Continuance of my Favour, Encouragement and Protection.

They were introduced by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, Lord Chamberlain of the Houſhold, and all had the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand.

They were then introduced to the Queen by the Earl of Grantham, Lord Chamberlain to her Majeſty; to whom the Vice-Chancellor preſented the Book of Verſes, and made the following Speech.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE Univerſity of Cambridge begs leave to preſent to your Majeſty this Teſtimony of their Joy for the Nuptials of his Royal Highneſs the Prince with the Princeſs of Saxe Gotha.

The Title of Princeſs of Wales having been, after a very long Intermiſſion, auſpiciouſly reviv'd in your Royal Perſon, and by your wearing and giving Luſtre to it render'd moſt grateful to us, earneſt have been our Wiſhes, ſince your Majeſty became poſſeſs'd of a higher, to ſee it again renew'd in the Conſort of his Royal Highneſs the Prince.

Theſe our Wiſhes having now received their Completion, and being ſenſible how much we owe to your Majeſty, by whom this and other great Bleſſings have been conveyed to us, we muſt think ourſelves in Duty bound to pray, that your Majeſty may long, very long be a Sharer in them, and ſee the Happineſs of their Highneſſes, and of every other Branch of the Royal Family.

To which her Majeſty was pleaſed to give a moſt gracious Anſwer, and they all had the Honour to kiſs her Majeſty's Hand.

Then they waited upon their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, to whom the Vice-Chancellor preſented the Book of Verſes, and made the following Speech.

To the Prince.

May it pleaſe your Royal Highneſs,

TO receive with your uſual Favour and Goodneſs this Preſent, which waits upon you from the Univerſity of Cambridge, to congratulate your moſt happy Nuptials.

It is a Bleſſing peculiar to his Majeſty's Reign, that inſtead of anxious Thoughts and Fears which the Marriages of our Princes gave formerly to the People, unfeigned Joy doth now fill their Hearts.

How tranſported would this Nation in the laſt Age have been, to ſee their Princes joined in Marriage to Proteſtant Princeſſes: This Bleſſing which was denied to them, being by the Favour of Heaven granted to us, we are under the greateſt Obligations to be thankful for it, and to wiſh all imaginable Happineſs to your Highneſs: And we hope that from this auſpicious Marriage will ſpring a Race of Princes in Virtue and Goodneſs equal to the beſt, in Glory not inferior to the greateſt of their Predeceſſors.

To the Princeſs.

May it pleaſe your Royal Higneſs,

TO accept this Tribute of the Cambridge Muſes, proud to congratulate your happy Nuptials, and celebrate thoſe Accompliſhments with which your Highneſs is adorn'd, worthy of the Conſort of the Prince of Great Britain.

Your Royal Highneſs having left your own People and your Father's Houſe to compleat the Happineſs of the Prince, and perpetuate that of Great Britain; it is a Pleaſure to us to think that you will meet with ſuch Returns of tender Affection from their Majeſties, Love from your Royal Conſort, and Eſteem from the Britiſh Nation, as will make this Country moſt agreeable and pleaſant to you.

Long may your Royal Highneſs Live the Joy and Delight of the Prince, and in ſo conſtant and uninterrupted a Fruition of the greateſt Bleſſings Heaven can beſtow upon you, as to be number'd amongſt the moſt Happy, as well as the moſt amiable Princeſſes.

To

To which his Royal Highneſs return'd for himſelf and the Princeſs his Conſort a moſt obliging Anſwer. And they all had the Honour to kiſs their Royal Highneſſes Hands.

From thence they were conducted to their Royal Highneſſes the Duke, the Princeſs Amelia, and the reſt of the Princeſſes, and the Vice-Chancellor preſented them with Books, having firſt made a ſhort Speech, to which he had very obliging Anſwers; and they were all admitted to kiſs the Duke's, and the Princeſſes Hands.

Whitehall, May 19.

This Day the Right Hon. the Earl of Arran, Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford, with Dr. Niblett the Vice-Chancellor, attended by a great Number of Biſhops, Noblemen, Heads of Colleges and Halls, Doctors in the ſeveral Faculties, Maſters of Art, and other Members of that learned Body, were at St. James's in their Formalities, to congratulate his Majeſty upon the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha; and the Vice-Chancellor preſented to his Majeſty an Addreſs and a Book of Verſes from the Univerſity on that Occaſion.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of the Univerſity of Oxford, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon the Marriage of the Prince and Princeſs of Wales.

'Tis to your Majeſty, and your illuſtrious Houſe, that this Nation is indebted for the preſent Poſſeſſion and Security of their Religion and Liberties; and it was impoſſible for your Majeſty to have given a more ſenſible Proof of your great Care to perpetuate theſe Bleſſings to your People, than by this Inſtance of your Wiſdom, in marrying the Heir of your Crown and Virtues, to a Princeſs deſcended from a Family, ſo eminently diſtinguiſh'd for its ſteady Adherence to the Proteſtant Intereſt.

The great Happineſs your People enjoy under your Majeſty's mild and auſpicious Government, call for the warmeſt returns of Duty and Gratitude from all your Subjects; and we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that it ſhall be our conſtant Endeavours to render ourſelves worthy of your Royal Countenance and Protection, by practiſing the Duties of Affection and Loyalty to your Majeſty's Perſon and Family, and by inſtilling the ſame good Principles into the Minds of the Youth committed to our Care.

May that Almighty Power, by whom Kings Reign, long preſerve your Sacred Life, a Bleſſing to this Church and Nation, and may thoſe Virtues, which now add a Luſtre to the Crown in your Majeſty's Perſon, be tranſmitted down to your Royal Progeny through all ſucceeding Generations.

To which his Majeſty was pleaſed to return this moſt gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for your loyal Addreſs, and for this Inſtance of your Zeal and Affection for my Perſon and Family. The Aſſurances you give me of inſtilling the ſame Principles of Duty and Loyalty into the Minds of the Youth committed to your Care, are very acceptable to me; and you may be aſſured, in Return, of my conſtant Support, Favour, and Protection.

They were introduc'd by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, and all had the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand.

Then they were introduced to the Queen, afterwards to the Prince and Princeſſes of Wales, and then to their Royal Highneſſes the Duke, the Princeſs Amelia, and the reſt of the Princeſſes: The Vice-Chancellor made ſhort Speeches at preſenting the Book of Verſes, and received from each of them very gracious and obliging Anſwers; and they all had the Honour to kiſs her Majeſty's and their Royal Highneſſes Hands.

The following Addreſs of the Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, has been preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Sundon and Sir Charles Wager, their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly; and they all had the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of your ancient City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, humbly beg Leave to preſent to your Majeſty our moſt ſincere and hearty Congratulations on the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with her illuſtrious Highneſs the Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha.

It

It is with the deepeſt Senſe of Duty and Gratitude, that we reflect on your Majeſty's unwearied Care and Concern, not only for the preſent, but future Happineſs of your People, ſo eminently manifeſted in compleating theſe Royal Nuptials.

That your Majeſty and our gracious Queen may be bleſſed with ſeeing their Royal Highneſſes happy in a numerous Iſſue; That your Majeſty's Reign over us may be long and proſperous; and that there may never be wanting one of your Royal Houſe to govern theſe your Kingdoms, are the moſt ſincere Wiſhes of, May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and faithful Subjects.

Given under our common Seal this 21ſt Day of May, 1736.

They were afterwards introduced to the Queen by the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Grantham her Majeſty's Lord Chamberlain, and paid their Compliments to her Maejſty as follows.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, beg leave to approach your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, with our Congratulations upon the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the illuſtrious Princeſs of Saxe Gotha.

A Princeſs already ſo formed to Virtue, and in every diſtinguiſhing Quality ſo equal to her high Birth and Station, will, we promiſe ourſelves, be able to purſue your Majeſty's great Example: And in your Majeſty ſhe will ſee every Royal Virtue in as eminent a Degree as ever Queen poſſeſſed: She has a moſt perfect Model before her: And as ſhe can go no higher in her Ambition, than to be as great and good as the preſent Queen of Great Britain; ſo ſhe will be ſure to compleat the Wiſhes of the People, if ſhe as much endeavours to make them happy.

May your Majeſty long live to give her an Example of every Royal Virtue; and as your Majeſty has always made it your greateſt Concern to gain the Hearts and Affections of the People, ſo may her Royal Highneſs in this, and every other Inſtance of Perfection, ſtudy to follow ſo great, ſo good a Pattern.

Her Majeſty received them very graciouſly, and they all had the Honour to kiſs her Majeſty's Hand.

Then they were introduced to their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, by the Rt. Hon. the Marqueſs of Carnarvon, and made their Compliments as follows.

To the Prince.

May it pleaſe your Royal Highneſs,

THE Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, beg Leave to congratulate your Royal Highneſs on the happy Event of your Marriage with the illuſtrious Princeſs of Saxe Gotha.

Your Royal Highneſs has ſo eminently diſtinguiſhed yourſelf by your princely Virtues, and that great Love and Affection you have upon all Occaſions manifeſted to the People of Great Britain, that we wanted nothing to compleat the Happineſs we ſo juſtly promiſed ourſelves, but to ſee the Prince of Wales married to a Princeſs deſerving of your great Virtues and Goodneſs; and it is with the utmoſt Pleaſure that we find theſe Wiſhes fulfilled in the Accompliſhments of your Royal Conſort.

May this Happineſs be long continued to this Nation, and may we be always governed by a Succeſſion of Princes deſcended from your Royal Highneſs.

To the Princeſs.

Madam,

IT is with the greateſt Pleaſure, that the Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgeſſes, Burgeſſes, High Conſtable, and Burgeſſes Aſſiſtants of the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, approach your Royal Highneſs with their Congratulations on your Marriage to his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

As you ſo eminently deſerve, Madam, may you long Enjoy the Heart and Affections of your Royal Conſort; and from this auſpicious Marriage, may there Spring a Race of Princes equal to their great Anceſtors in Royal Virtues.

Their Royal Highneſſes received them in a very obliging Manner, and they all had the Honour to kiſs their Royal Highneſſes Hands.

The following Addreſs from the Univerſity of Edinburgh has been preſented to his Majeſty by Patrick Lindeſay, Eſq; Member of Parliament for that City, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,
The humble Addreſs of the Univerſity of Edinburgh.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

IT is with Hearts full of Joy, that we your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, presume to approach your Royal Presence, to congratulate your Majesty upon the late auspicious Marriage betwixt his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and the most illustrious Princess Augusta of Saxe Gotha; a Princess most deservedly celebrated for her illustrious Descent, and still more for her personal Merit.

So happy a Choice of a Consort for the Heir of your Crown, equally shews the Wisdom of your Royal Counsels, and the tender Regard you have to the Happiness of your Subjects; while at once it secures to his Royal Highness the Happiness of his own Life, and to your loyal Subjects the Continuance of the Protestant Religion with the present and succeeding Generations.

A Match betwixt the Heir of the British Crown and a Princess descended of that most serene and heroick Elector of Saxony, who gave so glorious an Occasion to the Name which the Reformation still bears, and with an unshaken Constancy suffer'd so great Hardships for the Sake of it, must necessarily endear your Majesty's Royal Family to all true Protestants, through Europe, and open to your good Subjects a most joyful Prospect into future Ages.

Permit us, great Sir, while we so highly esteem the Wisdom of your Majesty's Counsels, and the Prosperity of your Government, at the same time with Gratitude and Admiration to observe the Goodness and Justice of the divine Providence, in raising to the highest Dignity, and blessing with so full Prosperity the Protestant Descendants of the King of Bohemia and of the Elector of Saxony; two Princes of ever glorious Memory, who suffered so unjustly, and lost so much for the Protestant Religion.

May the same gracious God, who has raised up your Majesty to reign over us, and has hitherto so remarkably bless'd your Royal Person and Government, continue and increase his Favour to your Majesty and your Royal Consort the Queen, and all your Royal Family: May He long preserve your Majesty to reign over a contented and happy People, and to be the Guardian of the Liberties of Europe, and the Preserver of her Peace. May He abundantly bless and long preserve the illustrious Pair lately joyn'd together in Marriage, and favour them with a numerous Issue to be the Pledges of our Happiness to the latest Times. May He more and more adorn his Highness's Mind with the Royal Endowments befitting his high Station; and, when by a late Removal your Majesty shall exchange an earthly for a heavenly Crown, may he and his Posterity after him fill your Throne with the most distinguished Prosperity, and inherit the Rewards of their own Merit, and of the Piety and Virtue of their great Ancestors. These are the sincere Prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal, most obedient and devoted Servants,

The Professors of your loyal University of Edinburgh.

Signed in our Name and at our Appointment
by James Smith, Principal.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Worcester, has been presented to his Majesty by the Hon. Thomas Winnington, Esq; Recorder, Samuel Sandys and Richard Lockwood, Esqrs. their Representatives, being introduced by the Rt. Hon. William Lord Manners: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and they had the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Worcester, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE most humbly presume to congratulate your Majesty upon the happy Nuptials of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, with a Princess, whose amiable Qualities not only recommend her to the Affections of his Royal Highness, but very justly entitle her to the universal Esteem of the whole Nation.

We have upon many Occasions experienced your Majesty's paternal Care and Regard for the Welfare and Happiness of your Subjects, and can't omit expressing our Gratitude for this fresh Instance of your Majesty's Concern for the Prosperity of your People, in concerting an Alliance which carries with it the happy Prospect of securing to us and our latest Posterity the Preservation of the Protestant Religion, and the Enjoyment of our civil Liberties.

That your Majesty may long reign over us; that her most sacred Majesty may long continue the Ornament of your Throne; and that their Royal Highnesses may be bless'd with a numerous Off-spring, who will not only inherit the Crown, but the Virtues of their Progenitors, are the most ardent and sincere Wishes of, May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

Given under our common Seal this 14th Day of May, 1736.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham, has been presented to his Majesty by John Plumtree, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, liament, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State, Lord Lieutenant of the County and Town of Nottingham, and Recorder of the ſaid Town: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham, at a Common Hall aſſembled the Twelfth Day of May, 1736.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg leave to join in our moſt ſincere and hearty Congratulations on the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with a Princeſs of the moſt illuſtrious Houſe of Saxe Gotha. The perſonal good Character of her Royal Highneſs, has already juſtly recommended her to univerſal Eſteem, and approves your Majeſty's Wiſdom in this important Tranſaction, which opens to us a pleaſing Proſpect of laſting Glory to theſe Nations, by the Strength it adds to the Proteſtant Intereſt, and to the Succeſſion of the Crown of theſe Kingdoms in your Majeſty's Royal Family, which, under God, we eſteem the Baſis of all our Happineſs.

We can never appear before your Majeſty without expreſſing the grateful Senſe we have of the many Bleſſings we enjoy under your Majeſty's mild and gracious Government, and of your Majeſty's tender Care and Concern for the Happineſs and Proſperity of your People; and it muſt appear to the whole World how much your Majeſty has it at Heart, to perpetuate them to our lateſt Poſterity, by engaging ſuch valuable Alliances to your Royal Family, of Perſons eminent in themſelves for their Religion and Virtue, and every laudable Accompliſhment, and of a Race renowned in Hiſtory for their ſignal Zeal in the Proteſtant Cauſe, and the Liberties of Mankind.

That God Almighty may bleſs your Majeſty's pious Endeavours for the publick Good with ſuitable Succeſs; that your Reign over us may be long and happy to your ſelf, as by your Majeſty's Goodneſs it is to your People; and that theſe Nations may be always bleſs'd with Governors of your Majeſty's Principles, ſo manifeſtly tending to the Welfare and Happineſs of your Subjects, is the ardent Prayer of us your faithful Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace and Grand Jury of the County of Stafford, has been preſented to His Majeſty by J. Lawton, Eſq; being introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace and Grand Jury, aſſembled together at the General Quarter Seſſions of the Peace, at Stafford, in and for the County of Stafford, on Tueſday the 4th Day of May, 1736.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace and Grand Jury of the County of Stafford, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon the late Marriage of the Prince and Princeſs of Wales.

We cannot but with Hearts full of Joy and Gratitude expreſs the great Satisfaction we and all your loyal Subjects muſt have in this illuſtrious Alliance ſo wiſely and juſtly formed, and by which the Proteſtant Succeſſion is amply and firmly ſecured to us and our Poſterity, to the utter Confuſion of its open and ſecret Enemies.

Your Majeſty has upon all Occaſions ſhewn yourſelf to be the common Parent of your People, the only Return we are capable of making, is humbly to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will always be ready, with our Lives and Fortunes, to ſupport your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon and Government, and to Diſcountenance thoſe who by any ſiniſter Arts endeavour to raiſe Jealouſies and Diſcontents among us.

May your Majeſty long continue to reign over a loyal and obedient People; and that there may never be wanting one of your Royal Race to fill the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, is the hearty Prayer of,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful and dutiful Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and Commonalty of the Town of Ludlow, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Henry Arthur Herbert, Eſq; William Corbet, Eſq; and Mr. Kettleby, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majeſty's faithful Subjects the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and Commonalty of the Town of Ludlow, beg Leave, among the Crowds of your loyal People, to congratulate your Majeſty upon the auſpicious Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince with the illuſtrious Princeſs of Saxe-Gotha.

They cannot ſufficiently admire and applaud your Majeſty's paternal and extenſive Care of your People, whilſt they behold your Majeſty, not content with diſpenſing Happineſs to the preſent Age, graciouſly providing Bleſſings for the future.

All Hiſtories Record how much the Reform'd Religion and Liberties of Germany owe to the Auguſt Houſes of Brunſwick and Saxony, and therefore your loyal Subjects preſage, that from this happy Union, a generous Race of Princes will ariſe, who (not unmindful of their Royal Anceſtors) will tranſmit pure Religion and virtuous Liberty in theſe Kingdoms, to lateſt Poſterity.

That the Supreme Being, under whoſe peculiar Protection magnanimous and beneficent Princes Reign, may continue to bleſs and preſerve your ſacred Majeſty, our moſt gracious Queen, and all your Royal Houſe, are the conſtant Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Aſſiſtants of the Town of Shrewsbury, has been preſented to his Majeſty by Sir Richard Corbet, Bart. and William Kinaſton, Eſq; their Repreſentatives in Parliament, attended by Henry Arthur Herbert, Eſq; being introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Aſſiſtants of the Town of Shrewſbury, moſt heartily Congratulate your Majeſty upon the Nuptials of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

Your Majeſty's own prudent Choice of a Princeſs, ſo eminently diſtinguiſh'd for her Stedfaſtneſs in the true Religion; the Marriage of the Princeſs Royal to a Prince ſo near in Birth and Virtue to our glorious Deliverer; and the preſent happy Union of his Royal Highneſs with a moſt agreeable Princeſs, deſcended from an illuſtrious Houſe, the firſt magnanimous Defenders of the Proteſtant Cauſe, ſhew your Majeſty's wiſe extenſive Views of tranſmitting to Poſterity the Bleſſings of your Reign, in a Succeſſion of Proteſtant Princes.

May your Majeſty long continue the Head of the Proteſtant Intereſt, the Protector of the Peace of Europe, owing to your Majeſty's Influence; and may theſe Kingdoms, who enjoy the Benefit thereof, and all the Bleſſings of a wiſe and ſteady Adminiſtration, be always happy in a Proteſtant Succeſſor of your Royal Line, to ſit upon your Majeſty's Throne for ever.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the City of Lincoln, has been preſented to his Majeſty by Charles Monſon, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the City of Lincoln.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE eſteem ourſelves bound in Gratitude, as well as Duty, humbly to offer to your Majeſty, our ſincereſt Congratulations, upon the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

The Security of our religious and civil Rights (of which we have had ſo long Experience) and the Proſpect of a laſting Peace, from your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Influence, have left your People nothing to wiſh for, but a Continuance of the ſame Bleſſings to their Poſterity, which themſelves Enjoy under your auſpicious Reign.

For ſupplying this our only Want, your Majeſty has now effectually provided, by ſo happy an Alliance, with a Princeſs of a conſummate Character; and of that Auguſt Houſe to whoſe great Progenitors the Reformation owes its Riſe, and the Liberty of Germany its Preſervation.

From Princes ſo eminently Virtuous in themſelves, deſcended from ſo worthy Anceſtors, and bred under the Direction and Example of Parents ſo conſpicuous for Wiſdom, Juſtice and Love of their People, we may expect a glorious Progeny, who ſhall be a Bleſſing to the Royal Family, an Honour to the Diadem they ſhall be born to wear, and a Protection to the Religion and Liberties of our Children yet unborn.

Given under the Common Seal of this City, the 12th Day of May, 1736.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes of the Borough of Portſmouth, in the County of Southampton, has been preſented to his Majeſty by Thomas Lewis, Lewis, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord William Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes, of the Borough of Porteſmouth, in the County of Southampton.

PErmit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, with Joy equal to the Occaſion, to congratulate your Majeſty on the Nuptials of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales.

Your Majeſty's great Care to perpetuate to this Nation the Bleſſings of a Proteſtant Government, gave us lately an Occaſion to approach your Throne: Your repeated Cares call for repeated Acknowledgements.

May the great Bleſſings we enjoy under your moſt auſpicious Government be thus conveyed to lateſt Poſterity; and may your Majeſty's Solicitude for the Welfare of your Subjects, meet with a ſuitable Return from a grateful and a happy People.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Capital Burgeſſes, and Freemen, of the Borough of Yarmouth in the Iſle of Wight, has been preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Hon. the Lord Harry Powlett, one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Right Hon. the Lord Manners: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Capital Burgeſſes, and Freemen of the Borough of Yarmouth in the Iſle of Wight.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE the ſaid Mayor, Capital Burgeſſes, and Freemen, beg leave to congratulate your Majeſty, the Queen, and the whole Kingdom, on the moſt auſpicious Nuptials of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales and his moſt amiable Princeſs.

A Marriage ſo agreeable to them, and to every good Subject in your Majeſty's Dominions, is not only an Evidence of your Majeſty's Goodneſs to the preſent Age, but alſo of your moſt indulgent Regard to Poſterity.

And from their princely Bed may ſuch a Race ſpring as will anſwer their moſt ardent Wiſhes.

Were we allowed to expreſs ours, it ſhould be, that they may have a Progeny of Princes, as great Ornaments to another Age, as they themſelves are to this; and ſufficient to baffle Popery as much by Numbers, as we have already done by fair Reaſon and Argument.

May that Peace and Plenty which your Majeſty's moſt beneficent and unwearied Cares have ſo happily procured, long continue.

And on your Majeſty's Head may the Crown long flouriſh.

The humble Addreſs of the Recorder, Chamberlains, Vicar, Curate, Common Councilmen, and other principal Inhabitants of Scarbrough, in the County of York, has been preſented to his Majeſty by William Thompſon and William Osbaldeſton, Eſqrs. their Repreſentatives in Parliament: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Recorder, Chamberlains, Vicar, Curate, Common Councilmen, and other principal Inhabitants of your Majeſtys Antient Borough of Scarbrough, in the County of York.

WE being truely ſenſible of the Happineſs we derive from your Majeſty's mild and auſpicious Government, from your Courage, Steadineſs and Foreſight, the Bleſſings of Peace; from your Piety, the Enjoyment of our Religious Rights; and from your inviolable Juſtice, the Preſervation, Protection, and Maintenance of our Properties, Privileges and Poſſeſſions; do, in the moſt humble and moſt dutiful Manner, Congratulate your Majeſty upon the Marriage of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs of Saxe Gotha.

May the ſhining Qualities, and the uninterrupted Felicity of their illuſtrious Parents, deſcend upon this Royal Pair.

Influenced by their Example, may conjugal Love and a numerous Progeny, ſweeten their Lives and reward their Virtues.

May Dignity, Honour and Reverence at Home, Power, Reputation and Authority Abroad, ever attend your Majeſty's Reign.

May theſe Kingdoms after a long Series of Proſperous Annals, be at length tranſmitted (amidſt the Sighs of a moſt grateful People) to their Royal Highneſſes and their Poſterity, till Time ſhall be no more, are the hearty Wiſhes of,

Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of York, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of York.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

THE Bleſſings we Enjoy under your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign, call upon us for the moſt dutiful and grateful Acknowledgements to your Majeſty, from whoſe wiſe Adminiſtration we alone derive them; Bleſſings which could not in any Inſtance have been increaſed, but from that Proſpect of the Continuance of them lately afforded us by the happy Nuptials of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, from whence we may expect a more certain Continuance of your Royal Family, and under that alone the Enjoyment of all that ever can be dear to a Free and Proteſtant People.

We beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty on this happy Occaſion, and to expreſs the Senſe and Satisfaction we have of all your Majeſty's Endeavours for the publick Good. That your Majeſty may long enjoy the Throne of theſe Realms, and that the ſame may never be filled but by Princes deſcended from your Majeſty, and inheriting your Royal Virtues, are the ſincere Prayers and Wiſhes of your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and obedient Subjects.

Given under our Common Seal, this Nineteenth Day of May, 1736.

When the French Refugees preſented their Addreſs to his Majeſty, inſerted in the Gazette of the 15th Inſtant, they alſo preſented the following Addreſſes to the Queen, and to the Prince and Princeſs of Wales.

A LA REINE.

Madame,

QUand les Proteſtants François Refugiez ne conſidereroient dans le Mariage de ſon Alteſſe Royale Monſeigneur le Prince de Galles que la Satisfaction que vôtre Majeſté doit en reſſentir comme Mere, ils croiroient devoir porter à ſes Pieds, avec autant de Zele que de Reſpect, le Tribut de leurs Felicitations et de leurs Vœux. Ne les dedaignez pas, Madame, dans une Conjoncture où nous ſommes perſuadez que vôtre Majeſté trouve elle-même quelque choſe de plus que le contentement d'une Mere : c'eſt celuy d'une Reine zelée pour les Interêts d'un Peuple dont la Providence ſemble avoir pour toujours attaché le bonheur à l'auguſte Maiſon de Hanovre. Ce qui nous fait triompher aujourdhuy, c'eſt que dans la brillante Perſpective qui s'ouvre devant nous et ou nôtre Eſperance (de concert avec nos Vœux) voit naitre une longue ſuite de Heros, nous croyons reconnoitre d'avance autant de Protecteurs de la Religion, de la Vertu, et des ſages Loix, qui ſous le Gouvernement de nôtre auguſte Monarque, font la Felicite de ſes Peuples.

A Son Alteſſe Royale Monſeigneur le Prince de Galles.

Monſeigneur,

LES Proteſtants François Refugiez viennent humblement aux pieds de vôtre Alteſſe Royale, joindre leurs Acclamations et leurs Vœux à ceux de tous les autres Sujets de ſa Majeſté. Le Mariage de vôtre Alteſſe Royale avec une Princeſſe, dont l'auguſte Maiſon s'eſt toujours diſtinguée par ſon Zele pour la Cauſe Proteſtante, nous inſpire une joye d'autant plus vive, que les Vertus de cette illuſtre Princeſſe, concourent avec les eminentes Qualitez de votre Alteſſe Royale, pour fortifier la douce Eſperance ou nous ſommes, que la Religion et la Liberté deja ſolidement affermez ſous le glorieux Regne de notre auguſte Monarque, ſeront conſervées d'age en age ſous des Succeſſeurs dignes de ſa Majeſté et de votre Alteſſe Royale. Nous nous flattons, Monſeigneur, que votre Alteſſe Royale voudra bien recevoir avec cette Bonté, qui lui eſt ſi naturelle, ce Temoignage de notre Veneration et de notre Zele pour ſa Perſonne, et agréer les Vœux ſinceres, que nous addreſſons au Ciel, pour la Conſervation, le bonheur, et la Gloire de votre Alteſſe Royale.

A S. A. R. Madame la Princeſſe de Galles.

Madame.

LE Sang dont votre Alteſſe Royal eſt iſſuë, les Principes qu'elle a ſuccée avec le Lait, le Choix du Roy, la Voix du Peuple, et celle de la Renommée, ne nous laiſſoient qu'une choſe à ſouhaiter dans le Mariage dont nous avons l'honneur de vous feliciter : C'etoit que les deux Cœurs dont il devoit unir la Deſtinée, ſe trouvaſſent faits l'un pour l'autre ; et nous voyons, Graces au Ciel, que même à cet Egard l'Evenement répond à nos Souhaits. Permettez nous, Madame, d'aſſurer V. A R. que nous ſentons vivement ce que tant de Circonſtances heureuſes promettent à l'Angleterre et à la bonne Cauſe ; s'il plait au Seigneur de conſerver votre illuſtre Perſonne, et de bénir les Nœuds par leſquels il vient de l'attacher à celle de S. A. R. Monſeigneur le Prince de Galles. Ce ſont là, Madame, les Vœux unanimes de la Nation, mais ce ſont ſur tout ceux que forment avec Ardeur les Proteſtants François Refugiez.

Hagus, May 29, N. S. The King of Pruſſia's Miniſter has had ſeveral Conferences with the Deputies of the States General, upon the Reſolution they have lately paſſed relating to the Succeſſion of Bergues ſuliers and Eaſt-Friſeland, with which his Pruſſian Majeſty ſeems to be diſſatisfied. Prince Charles of Heſſe-Philipſtadt is arrived here, with the Princeſs his Conſort and two Princeſſes his Siſters, and Prince William his Brother, Governour of Ypres, is expected from thence, in order to divide among them the Effects of the Princeſs their Mother, who had long reſided and lately died here. The Baron d'Uffel arrived here the 27th from England, and this Morning ſet out for Gotha. Some Letters from Vienna adviſe, that the Muſcovites have made themſelves Maſters of Aſoph; and that their main Army was in full March into the Crimea.

St. James's, May 18.

This Day Signior Imberti, Reſident from the moſt Serene Republick of Venice, had a private Audience of Leave of his Majeſty; to which he was introduc'd by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's principal Secretaries of State; and conducted by Sir Clement Cottrell, Kt. Maſter of the Ceremonies.

AT

As alſo to conſtitute and appoint Sir Charles Wager, Kt. Sir Thomas Littleton, Bart. Archibald Hamilton, commonly called Lord Archibald Hamilton, Sir Thomas Frankland, Bart. Thomas Clutterbuck, Eſq; Harry Pawlet, commonly called Lord Harry Pawlet, and John Campbell of Stackpole Court in the County of Pembroke, Eſq; to be His Commiſſioners for Executing the Office of His Majeſty's High Admiral of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Dominions and Territories thereunto belonging.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to grant unto Andrew Stone, Eſq; the Offices of Clerk or Regiſter of the Court of Chancery and Patents, in His Majeſty's Iſland of Jamaica, in the Room of Thomas Windham, Gent. deceaſed.

Whitehall, May 22.

This Morning, at Three of the Clock, the King ſet out from St. James's for Graveſend, in order to embark for Holland.

Whitehall, May 21, 1736.

Whereas the Lodgings of Nicholas Bayly, Eſq; were burglariouſly broke open on Monday the Tenth Day of this Inſtant May, in the Houſe of Mr. Robert Cotes, Apothecary in Bond-ſtreet, in the County of Middleſex, and a great Quantity of rich wearing Apparel, with a Gold repeating Watch and other Things of Value, the Property of the ſaid Nicholas Bayly, were feloniouſly taken out of them: His Majeſty, for the better Diſcovery of the ſaid Burglary and Felony, is pleaſed to promiſe His moſt gracious Pardon to any one of the Perſons concerned therein, who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as they or any of them be apprehended and convicted thereof. HARRINGTON.

And as a further Encouragement for diſcovering the ſame, the ſaid Nicholas Bayly doth hereby promiſe a Reward of Twenty Pounds to be paid by him upon Conviction of any of the Offenders; and the ſaid Mr. Robert Cotes, who, upon the ſame Occaſion, had ſome Silver Spoons feloniouſly taken out of his Kitchen, doth likewiſe promiſe a farther Reward of Twenty Pounds upon Conviction of any of the Offenders.

Nicholas Bayly.
Robert Cotes.
